

ONTITLE Launches New Website

Highlights new product features and interfaces with their proprietary information management system ONSMART

ALISO VIEJO, California – September 26, 2011 – ONTITLE, LLC (www.ontitle.com), the newest and most dynamic brand in the real property information services industry, announced today the launch of its award winning website. The website design reflects the many enhanced features of the ONSMART information management system built into the back office of the ontitle.com site for members.

“The ONTITLE website is a critical part of our success plan,” said Company Founder and CEO, John Lynch. “Dedication to our Simple is Smart mission and to our partner promise of delivering property information services in the most efficient and cost effective deliverable possible, thus maximizing our partner experience and increasing partner ROI.”

The ONTITLE website and Simple is Smart mission is propagated throughout our business model with the introduction of our cloud based information management system, ONSMART.

ONSMART is at the forefront of our cutting edge systems and product initiatives offering a complete product line of property reports and related documents geared to the needs of lenders. Products available through the new portal include property, legal and vesting reports that include information relating to ownership, tax assessment values and payment status, mortgages and other involuntary liens, and recordable legal descriptions. Property reports delivered through ONSMART utilize a variety of public online and proprietary databases. ONSMART includes an enhanced layer of quality-assurance review, differentiating it from other products in the marketplace.

About ONTITLE

ONTITLE, a wholly owned subsidiary of ONTITLE, LLC provides clients access to our growing database of over 1,600 counties in 48 states, serving 89 percent of the nation’s population through our cloud based order management system, ONSMART.

ONTITLE delivers hundreds of thousands of quality images instantly online, to companies in need of recorded property documents and property information. ONTITLE’s proprietary technology, ONSMART enables workflow automation by allowing users to process, share, annotate, print and store images in a cloud based or internet-connected environment. ONTITLE greatly reduces research times and makes real property information automation and paperless processing a reality. More information about the company can be found at www.ontitle.com.